A close INTER-operation between the law firm and the client

TODAY’S BUSINESS WORLD is dynamic. Due to this, great demands are laid upon the legal advice. Consequently INTERS aim is always to be at the top when it comes to legal services. INTERS co-workers are divided into special competence groups and regularly participate in continuous professional education.

A MODERN LAW firm can however not solely rely on excellent workmanship. Special insights regarding the client’s specific conditions are also required in order to give correct and effective legal advice. We always endeavour to maintain a close inter-operation between the law firm and the client. Together we carry out follow-ups regarding legal and commercial progress of the client’s business. This paves the way for a long-lasting and successful relationship.